

2010 International Symposium on Advances in Technology Education Hotel Kyocera, Kirishima City, Kagoshima September 28 –30, 2010

ISATE 2010 Call for Papers

The symposium is about innovations and research in education in engineering and technology. It is an ideal forum for sharing ideas; learning about developments in engineering and technology education; and interacting with colleagues.

Proposals for participation in the 2010 ISATE can be submitted in the following formats:

- Papers
- Panel - These sessions can provide multiple perspectives on the same issue and allow session participants to contribute to the dialogue about the issue.

Innovative proposals are actively solicited. The list of topics includes, but is not limited to:

Active and experiential learning Assessing learning Blended learning Computer and Web-based software Curriculum and program design Design experiences: senior capstone and other Development of desired graduate attributes Disciplinary introductory courses Distance learning: methods, technologies, and assessment Entrepreneurship programs Ethics: creative ways to teach and assess teaching Faculty professional development First-year courses and programs Globalization: preparing faculty and students Innovative engineering and technology courses and labs	K-12 initiatives and partnerships Laboratory experiences: on-site and at a distance Learning design and teaching strategies Lifelong learning and non-traditional students Partnerships (industry, government, university, international) Pedagogies Professional ethics in engineering and technology Service learning Skills development: technical writing, presentation, teamwork Software engineering Student retention and persistence Study abroad programs Technology-enhanced learning Undergraduate research experiences Uses of technology in the classroom
---	--

Detailed requirements for submissions can be found on the 2010 ISATE Web site:

<http://www.kagoshima-ct.ac.jp/isate2010/> (available in January 2010 )

Schedule:

May 07 (Fri.), 2010 -	for the submission of proposals
May 28 (Fri.), 2010 -	for the notification of authors on the acceptance or rejection of proposals
July 23 (Fri.), 2010 -	for the submission of full papers

The proposals will be reviewed by the Technical Program Committee. The authors of accepted proposals will be obliged to guarantee that they register for the Symposium, pay the registration fees, attend the Symposium, and present. A submitted paper will be published in the proceedings only if it is accompanied by the registration form(s) and registration fees(s) for at least one of the authors.